

CSL Mini & Midi Grants

Request for Applications

The Center for Medical Humanities & Ethics is accepting proposals from UT Health San Antonio students to conduct community service learning (CSL) projects. CSL is a structured learning experience that combines community service with preparation and reflection. Projects should address health needs in San Antonio, surrounding counties, & South Texas.

Mini-grants of $500 help defray the cost of project expenses. A limited number of Midi-grants of $2,000 - $4,000 are available for established projects.

Priority will be given to interprofessional projects, representing two or more professions.

Fall Deadline: September 6, 2017
